Dear Sir or Madam

My name is Robin Maréchal, and I am a 21 year old French science engineering student.

I just passed my first year, and at the end of the next one, I will have to do a 2-months internship, preferably in a foreign, country. Therefore, I chose England for two major reasons. First of all, I am really interested in this country which I would like to visit again, and also because I am very motivated to improve my English speaking and listening.

For almost three years, I have been in fond of science computing, especially development sector, whether it is web, mobile or software development. I have been practising a lot with PHP (with Laravel/Lumen frameworks), MySQL, Java SE, but also with some other tools like Python, C/C++, JavaScript and more.

At the moment, my dates of availability are not definitely set, but it may be from the very beginning of June to the beginning of September of next summer.

I wish I could join your company next year, which would allow me to improve my knowledge, my skills, and to get (gain) some great work experience.

Yours faithfully,

Robin Maréchal
